supports and services were
used 134,958 times in 2021

Neighbourhood houses are local service hubs that ensure individuals and families have access to supports and services within their own neighbourhood or nearby communities. They respond to the evolving needs of residents by providing a diverse range of family-centred and strength-based supports and services that are accessible and effective.

Services look different from neighbourhood house to neighbourhood house as each engages with their community to actively address its issues and challenges and works with families and individuals to build their capacity. Neighbourhood houses also provide opportunities for people to connect and contribute to their local community through social, educational, recreational and support activities.
